Dinners in the Dark

Listen. Smell. Touch. Taste.

Without sight, diners' other senses are heightened. Smells, textures and sounds all become more intense. Arrive at our door, don a blindfold & let us take you on an unforgettable ride.

Abigail's Kitchen (formerly Camaje Bistro) has been hosting Dinners in the Dark for 15 years and we remain the only place in New York City to host such events. We try to keep aspects of the Dinners in the Dark somewhat mysterious but here's an idea of what to expect. Your group will arrive outside Abigail's Kitchen. We will have curtains up so no one can see the space. We will do a brief orientation to give guests instructions on how to communicate with waitstaff, and we also confirm any dietary restrictions since the menu is a secret (it's a farm-to-table menu - nothing weird!). Dietary restrictions are sent prior to the event. Guests are led in blindfolded and seated. We then proceed to serve a 4-course meal paired with (unlimited) wine. We have some fun with the other senses but mostly leave you to it. We reveal the menu at the end and then take off the blindfolds together. It's really fun and totally unique! People connect on a whole new level.

Here are a few particulars

- Diners wear comfortable blindfolds throughout the event. The dining room is not dark.
- Dinners last about 2 1/2 hours.
- Menus are secret until the end of the meal so naturally guests have fun guessing which food and wine is on the plate and in the glass.
- Any dietary restrictions can be accommodated as long as they are noted prior to the event. We will happily make mocktails for those who don't drink alcohol.
